LSN (Lebanon Stabilized Nitrogen) ensures that nitrogen gets delivered to the turf and does not escape into the atmosphere through volatilization. LSN provides a cost effective source of nitrogen and offers an agronomic alternative to slow release nitrogen sources, Unlike straight urea LSN, does not need to be watered in immediately after application. LSN is found in our Lebanon® Pro brand.

Nobody likes to lose anything....especially Nitrogen

Lock it in with

When untreated urea isn't immediately watered in after application, it begins to lose nitrogen into the atmosphere as ammonia gas due to absorbing moisture from the air. LSN significantly reduces the amount of nitrogen that escapes for up to ten days by inhibiting the enzyme, urease, that converts urea into ammonia gas and ammonium.

Three days after applying one pound nitrogen, the untreated urea has already lost approximately 20% into the atmosphere. While the LSN treated urea remains largely intact, waiting to be watered into the soil profile so it can be converted into ammonium plant food.

LSN is available in our Lebanon[®] Pro brand in straight fertilizer or fertilizer combination products.
